You are invited to attend the
SMART Teachers Conference 2010
See, Share & Shape the Future

Taking place on the 15th and 16th July 2010, this exciting conference and training day are designed specifically for educators, interested in improving the teaching and learning in their classroom through the effective use of interactive whiteboards.

The training day will take place on day one (Thursday 15th July), with the conference to be conducted on day two (Friday 16th July).

Both events are completely FREE of charge and are full day programs. A light lunch and refreshments will be included on the day.

The goal of this Conference is to facilitate the open exchange of ideas, knowledge and insights on using interactive whiteboards effectively in the classroom. We look forward to providing you with some great resources and further inspiration to increase student learning in your school.

We'll spend some time sharing ideas as a group with our special keynote speaker and then break out into smaller sessions to be held over three time periods. The break out sessions are designed to provide you with ideas and practical hands-on experience for using your SMART Board™ interactive whiteboard.
